

SRI VENKATESWARA UNIVERSITY : TIRUPATI

M.A. POLITICAL SCIENCE (FINAL)

Paper I – INDIAN POLITICAL SYSTEM (II YEAR)

INTERNAL TEST QUESTION PAPER

(Max. Marks: 10 X 2)

1. Write an essay on the liberal features of the Indian constitution.
2. What are the tension areas between fundamental rights and directive principles as it has been noticed in the last sixty years.
3. Critically review the landmark judgements of the Supreme Court in its exercise of the authority of Judicial Review.
4. How caste is influencing electoral politics in India?
5. Critically evaluate the ideology of cultural nationalism propounded by the Bharatiya Janata party.
6. Critically assess the constitutional position and practice of the President of India.
7. What are the reasons do you account for the formation coalitional governments at the centre in the last two decades?
8. How far the rights of the minorities in the Indian constitution are protected by the Supreme Court as well as by the Parliament in India.
9. Compare the ideologies of two regional parties, i.e., DMK and Akali Del.
10. Do you think that the constitution of India is responsible for the stabilisation of Democracy in India.

SRI VENKATESWARA UNIVERSITY : TIRUPATI

M.A. POLITICAL SCIENCE (FINAL)

Paper II – INTERNATIONAL POLITICS (II YEAR)

INTERNAL TEST QUESTION PAPER

(Max. Marks: 10 X 2)

1. What are the features of Realism? Analyse its relevance to contemporary international politics.
2. Describe the Cuban Missile crisis and analyse its consequences.
3. Explain the principles of Balance of power theory in international politics.
4. Examine the relevance of Diplomacy in the Nuclear age.
5. Explain the composition, powers and functions of the United Nations General Assembly.
6. What is Foreign policy? Analyse the determinants of foreign policy.
7. What is Systems Theory in international politics? What is its importance?
8. Explain different stages of cold war.
9. Critically examine the provisions of the Nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty.
10. Write a brief note on the structure of the League of Nations.